

LABLINK - I/O Port Output to RF Converter for use with new Sky™ HD receivers

Provides an RF output for the latest Sky HD set top boxes with no RF output of their own

- Converts the signal from the Sky™ I/O port to an RF output
- Connects to a TV distribution system to allow viewing and IR remote control from multiple locations
- Converts the signal from the Sky™ I/O port to an RF output
- Aerial loop through for Freeview signal distribution
- Fully compatible with new and existing TV distribution systems
- Allows the use of existing RF Link devices used to distribute Sky™ signals and control remotely Sky™ receivers

Please Note: Link compatible distribution amplifier required for multiple room systems. An RF Link device is required at each TV location (not supplied). Additional remote controls may be required.

10 pin din connection to I/O port on Sky receiver

