LA-78-ARCUS-IND

78cm Arcus Induction Hob with Built In Extractor

The new Arcus flexi Induction hob with built in extractor fan is a brand new concept in extraction. An efficient induction hob that has a powerful 1300 m³/hr motor, more than enough power to remove steam and grease from 4 pans boiling at once. This new kitchen extractor hob has been designed to work with pans as high as 220mm. Air is drawn through the central vent that will rise as soon as the extractor is turned on. This central vent is mechanical and will rise and lower as the extractor is turned on and off.

For convenience the hob and extractor can be used separately so if you only want to use the hob you can leave the extractor off, similarly if there are any smells or steam still in the air after you have finished cooking you can use the extractor once the hob has been turned off. A timer function is available that will power down the motor when the timer counts to zero.

LA-78-ARCUS-2

78cm Arcus Induction Hob with Built In Extractor

The Arcus-2 is very similar to the Arcus but instead of a rising unit to extract, air is drawn through a unique grill vent when the extractor is turned on. This grill is removable for access to heavy duty metal grease filters inside and a drip tray to catch any excess spillage. The grill, metal grease filters and the drip tray are all washable for ease of use.
