

Part P City and Guilds 2393 TS4U-931D

This course is for qualified and experienced electricians only who want to upgrade their knowledge and qualifications to encompass the Part P building regulations and be able to register with a governing body and work as a domestic Part P installer. * (NB Experienced Electricians Only)*.

Course Content

The government approved Document P (electrical safety) came into effect on the 1st January 2005. For the first time the mainstream work of domestic electrical installers became subject to the requirements and procedures associated with Building Control.

Domestic electrical installers need to appreciate the requirements that apply to the building work they carry out in connection with their electrical work, and they need to understand the way that Building Control works and the procedures that need to be followed.

The primary aim of this knowledge based level 3 qualification is to enable practising electricians, operating in the domestic environment, to gain an understanding of how electrical installations must comply to all relevant building regulations.

This qualification does not cater with how to meet the technical requirements when carrying out such work therefore we are only able to take on qualified electricians with the appropriate knowledge and skills on this 1 day course.

Why do i need a Part P Qualification?

If you're going to do Domestic Installations as a job then you are going to have to register with one of the governing bodies. Electrical work carried out in a domestic environment must meet the building regulations! You can get this necessary knowledge to comply with the building regulations from our 2393 course.
